FEELING SPOOKY

Fall is in the air and at the Book-Go-Round, we've prepared a display of spooky reads to help get you in the Halloween mood. From a large collection of Stephen King hardcovers to a curious array of vintage true crime, and some suspenseful staff recommendations in-between, we hope you'll find something to enjoy.

And if you do, please let us know at our next Friends Sharing Books zoom meeting on November 10th at 10:00 am. Every two months, a rotating group of BGR volunteers and customers meets to discuss books we've recently read. It's a book club where everyone reads what they want, brings ideas to share, and leaves with a list of great recommendations. To sign up, please visit us at fslonline.org. We hope to see you there!

Would you like to hear about events and specials at the BGR? Please visit bookground.com to sign up.

HOLIDAY GIFTS

While you can always give books as gifts to friends and family this holiday season – something we strongly support, this year, we're talking about books to help you hand-make a gift or two. Think knitted beanies and scarves, baby quilts, jams, and spiced nuts. Perfect for loved ones, special teachers, and your USPS Postal Carrier alike, these gifts inspire creativity, radiate thoughtfulness, and encourage time spent getting in the holiday spirit. You can even listen to an audio book from Libby while you're at it! Through October and November, we will have an assortment of craft and cookbooks on display to inspire creative gift-making and giving. Some are holiday-themed, and most can be used all year long for gifts and favors. Check them out before they're gone.

Above and left: Just a few of the craft, recipe, textile arts, and needlework pattern books which will be on display and available to purchase at the Book-Go-Round through October and November.

The Book-Go-Round is operated by the Friends of the Saratoga Libraries, a non-profit 501(c)(3) all-volunteer organization dedicated to raising funds for the Saratoga Library. Among so much more, our efforts help maintain and improve the library's facilities, extend opening hours, and provide literacy and arts programs for patrons of all ages.
